EXPERIENCE

Taboola

Content discovery and native advertising platform

Los Angeles, CA

Senior Software Engineer

March 2021 - September 2023

- Built a Java Spring REST API backend and React frontend for a generative AI prompt helper, contributing to Taboola's AI tools that drove up to 50% higher advertiser conversions
- Implemented an end-to-end notification flow using Airflow, improving the adoption rate of call-to-action and ad description campaign features by over 15%
- Reduced configuration complexity of AB testing functionality through refactoring legacy infrastructure, leading to fewer system and user errors
- Added analytics flows from frontend to MySQL and Vertica for Tableau and Google dashboards
- Mentored and interviewed interns and junior engineers

Full Stack Engineer

March 2018 - March 2021

- Created Java Spring REST API endpoints and internal dashboard to onboard and configure publisher clients, replacing a legacy onboarding flow and reducing errors and setup time
- Developed and maintained client-facing and server-side features for the Taboola Ads campaign management platform, with automated test coverage using Java, JUnit, React, and Jest
- Designed, documented, and productized a Node.js web crawler deployed to Kubernetes for content review, reducing ad approval time by over 35% and enhancing data science models
- Implemented production monitoring and alerting for endpoints using Grafana and PagerDuty
- Contributed to features for Taboola Newsroom, a React Redux analytics web app for publishers, and corresponding Newsroom mobile app using React Native

Frontend Engineering Intern

October 2017 - March 2018

- Refactored authentication flow for Newsroom's Chrome extension to implement OAuth refresh token session management and increased user retention by 30%
